

SUPPORT THE GREENVILLE CONCERT BAND AND COMMUNITY ARTS

The Greenville Concert Band will join the Wade Hampton High School band for a spring concert Friday, April 16, 2010 at 8:00 p.m. at Wade Hampton High School auditorium. Tuba soloist Deanna Swoboda will perform jazz and classical selections as part of our Arts For A Lifetime series. There is no charge for admission.

By including young musicians in a significant concert alongside adults we demonstrate the value of community arts and thereby strengthen arts organizations of the future. Your ad will express your support for cooperation between arts education and community arts organizations that contribute to the culture of Greenville.

The Greenville Concert Band is a tax-exempt public charity (IRS #57-0734043) that relies on contributions from members, arts organizations, area businesses, and friends. We are a member of the Greenville Metropolitan Arts Council and bring to the people of Greenville a unique blend of musicianship, enthusiasm and community spirit. We return support to the community by playing at hospitals, retirement homes, and schools.

To place your ad, complete the enclosed form and return to us by April 2, 2010. The Arts For a Lifetime joint concert will be a delightful evening of musical entertainment!

Please call (864) 268-7274 for more information.

Thank you for your support.
